Residents requesting takeover of Dobrey Slough area well

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

Who will take over the operation of a well system in the Dobrey Slough area?

That's what residents in the area are asking the Granite City Council, the Metro-East Sanitary District, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and their federal, state and township representatives.

SEVERAL RESIDENTS approached the MESD Board Wednesday, after having gone to the Granite City Council the night before. Helen Hawkins of 2600 Angela Drive asked the MESD Board to consider taking over the well's operation, which was temporarily installed by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers between Herlock and Pine streets last January.

"We're tired of planning," she said about efforts to relieve flooding in the area.

"After the well was put in, they said this was only a test," she said, calling the test a "tease."

SHE TOLD the board the easement rights for the well, which was installed on private property, expire July 1. She said the board has the authority to condemn the property so the well could remain.

"You pay for the utilities on the surface water pump now. We're requesting that you take over the groundwater pump and pay the electric costs for usage of it. You could show good intent to everybody," Hawkins said.

But MESD Board members objected to taking responsibility for the well.

MESD EXECUTIVE Director Shang Greathouse said the district's electric bill will increase $48,000 next year, based on an annual bill of $300,000. The following year, he expects another $42,000 increase due to electric rate increases.

In addition, he said, revenues to the MESD are down $400,000.

"I don't like to run away from things, but I have to look at things carefully," he said. "We need more income. Everybody wants the services, but they don't want to pay for them."

"WE'RE JUST in a vise on the money. We've got some plans. I can't tell you right now what they are, but we're going to approach this from a higher level. We're trying to get the attention of people in Washington to get a sufficient amount of money here," Greathouse said.

MESD Commissioner Robert Bergman said he, too, is opposed to taking over the well.

"As far as I'm concerned, you don't have a unique problem here," he said.

HAWKINS RESPONDED, "Everytime I come here, someone from St. Clair County says he doesn't care about Madison County."

Bi-State route compromise criticized

Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse announced Tuesday night Bi-State bus service will revert back to its former routes within 30 to 45 days.

Changes in four bus routes and a new bus route were started in the city on June 3.

Cruse made the statement after he was criticized by 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer for the compromise agreement that had been worked out by the Madison County Transit Authority.

A week ago, residents representing Cleveland, Edison and Emert avenues made a plea to aldermen that the bus routes be diverted from their streets.

Cruse, a transit board member, took their plea to the board, and that resulted in a compromise agreement, diverting traffic from these streets.

Whitmer told Cruse the compromise that had been worked out made the situation "worse than it was."

He said instead of the routes being divided between Delmar, Cleveland and Edison avenues, 40 buses a day are now traveling on Delmar Avenue.

"That was no compromise," Whitmer said. "It straightened out Cleveland and Edison, but it sure messed up Delmar. There's only one solution — and that's going back to the old bus routes."

Cruse countered by telling Whitmer it would take time to solve the bus route problems. "The change in the bus routes didn't happen overnight," Cruse said. "It started 18 months ago."

Granite City's representative on the transit board at that time was former Mayor Paul Schuler.

"They (Bi-State) are going to revert back to the old routes they had, but it's not going to happen overnight," Cruse said. "I don't know how they can do any more than they've done — they've bent over backwards."

"As for the compromise, I left that meeting (of the transit board) thinking I had helped. But you (Whitmer) tell me I've made things worse."

"If you weren't informed about the proposed changes before, I'm sorry for you. But you're asking them (the transit board) to undo something that's been in the making for 18 months. They've been reasonable with us, so I think we should be reasonable with them," Cruse said.

Coordinator one way to help revitalization...

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

Third in a series

Reluctance, not apathy, is probably the biggest obstacle to downtown redevelopment.

"It's usually a thumbs-down operation with politicians because they think it will cost too much money," said Russell Walker, owner of Walkers Jewelry and Gifts at 1257 19th St. "But the money's got to come from everyone."

Jim DeRuntz, owner of Michel Jewelry and Gifts at 1842 State St., agreed.

"It's right how they (city officials) came down and said they were going to hire a coordinator and we (the merchants) had to pay for it, you'd see a lot of businesses shut down," DeRuntz said he would cooperate, but "I can't spend much because I don't have enough business."

But there may be financial help on the way. Granite City officials have applied for $50,000 in Community Development Block Grants for downtown development. The Department of Housing and Urban

DOWNTOWN

Development is expected to make a decision on the application and release funds by Oct. 1.

And there are other funding sources for downtown redevelopment, according to John Sower, director of the National Development Council in Washington, D.C.

The Small Business Administration, should it survive Congressional budget cutting, may be of assistance, Sower said.

"Although SBA can be an important resource for financing revitalization of older business districts, its purpose is to supplement or encourage loans from banks, city agencies and other financial institutions — particularly for buildings not owned by merchants and for financially weaker business," he said.

"Local banks and savings institutions should be encouraged by local public officials to understand and participate in business district revitalization efforts."

Sower also said, "It is also important that city officials, businessmen and neighborhood residents understand some financing concepts basic to a successful program. For one thing, too much time is wasted in well-meaning attempts to do the impossible: save failing businesses. Learning which projects to screen out is essential."

In addition to SBA assistance, the November 1984 Illinois Economic Report from the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs indicates state grants for downtown redevelopment may be available.

According to the report, DCA awarded $265,559 in grants through the Central Business District Development Program to eight Illinois cities.

Some examples of the grants and their uses include: $24,513 to Chillicothe to provide three downtown firms with low-interest loans to help create 12 permanent part-time jobs and one full-time job; $50,000 to DeKalb to establish a low-interest revolving loan fund for improvements, and $48,925 to Anna to provide interest subsidies on commercial bank loans to businesses for building renovation on a theme basis and for business loans to create employment.

Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse said he has not yet attempted to obtain funding to develop Granite City's downtown, because he only took office May 7.

"I intend to make all efforts to find funds along those lines," he said.

He also noted Central Bank officials have offered to host and pay for a downtown revitalization seminar for Granite City merchants

Coordinator OK'd

In keeping with the prospects for the future of Granite City's downtown, the Granite City Council voted 11 to 2 last week to create the position of city development coordinator.

The coordinator's purpose will be, in part, to help with commercial and retail development for the entire city, but Mayor Von Dee Cruse noted downtown revitalization is especially important. He said downtown is the heart of the city.

The city, under the proposal to promote retail and commercial development, will enter a joint agreement with the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce to support the coordinator. The city would pay the salary, with the chamber providing services and benefits.

and property owners in the bank lobby.

Such a seminar, hosted by a downtown bank, may provide needed inspiration for redevelopment of Granite City's downtown, but inspiration needs a practical outlet. City officials and downtown merchants may be well advised to pool their resources and actively pursue a redevelopment plan. In the long run, redevelopment should be seen as an investment, not an expenditure.

Next week: management.

League baseball teams should be good sports

To the Editor:
Baseball season is underway once again. Just a few games have been played and already many of the boys in the Granite City Park District Leagues have shown that they are exceptional players. Yes, they have been taught well, except in one area — good sportsmanship.
Good sportsmanship is more than two teams lining up at the end of a game and slapping at each other's hands. Good sportsmanship is not laughing at and making fun of a team that is not even half as good as you are. Good sportsmanship is not demeaning another team when that team is trying as hard as each member can to play well. Good sportsmanship is not an experienced coach screaming at a young umpire over a disputed play.

A coach has a responsibility to each boy on his team to develop every natural capability that boy has physically, but the responsibility does not stop there. A coach has a responsibility to develop good character in each boy as well. The best teacher is living a good example. Coaches, managers, officials and parents, perhaps we should examine ourselves.

Madison merchants get hearty pat on the back

To the Editor:
Saturday (June 1) was a very good day for me, and I would like to share why.
First, I needed something from a hardware store and thought for sure I would have to drive up to Granite City for it. However, I decided to stop two blocks from where I live at the new Pace Hardware, Fifth Street and Madison Avenue. To my surprise, I found that Mr. Pace not only had what I wanted, he has a very well stocked hardware store. In addition, I was met with friendly and knowledgeable sales people. So this really started my Saturday off right and if my friends in Granite City can't find something, they should try Pace's in Madison.
My second good happening was the fact that Saturday was the day when the Voloski family and their four children opened Voloski's Family Restaurant in the 1300 block of Madison Avenue.

The restaurant is beautiful and the food was great. The Voloskis not only had their locally famous fried chicken, they have a real variety on their menu with some ethnic Eastern European specialties that are great.
Neither Mr. Pace or the Voloskis know about this letter. I wanted to surprise them as they surprised me on Saturday.
I just felt like sharing some really good news about Madison, that everyone can share in.

Trash, vacancies downtown

To the Editor:
If you want to have a rude awakening, take the time to go downtown sometime as I did in the morning after a weekend, or any other day. See the trash, paper, beer bottles, cans and just all kind of junk littering the sidewalks and streets — a real eyesore.
There are not enough trash barrels to begin with, and they should be larger and more colorful. The City of Madison has elaborate designs that are appealing, in which to throw trash.
Downtown was laid out for horse and buggy days, with no foresight for the future. If you go to Staunton, Bend and other communities with small populations, you will see the main street and business areas very wide and spread out, not congested and packed in like a sardine, as in downtown Granite City.
The area downtown should be made into a mall; there are congested, too-narrow streets, parking meters, everything to deter any future growth.

A large chain store, food, or with any type of national connections, would be a magnet to draw in people. You can fire a cannon on the sidewalks of downtown and not hit anyone, someday because there is no one there.
Some storefronts are dirty, drab, old and beat-up looking, which reflects decay and despair for the area. A drastic approach would be to take a bulldozer and tear it all down, and acquire federal aid to rebuild the whole area with low-interest loans.
The vacant stores make downtown a real "ghost town." All they need now is tumble weeds to add to the atmosphere.
LIFELONG RESIDENT

Appreciated media coverage

To the Editor:
So often we fall to say "thank you" for your help and cooperation.
On behalf of all the persons who participated in the celebration for Older Americans Month, May 31, at 201 North Church Street, Belleville, Ill., (Programs and Services for Older Persons), we will see the coverage you gave us in both of the local papers.

We can reach those persons who are enrolled in our program, but the media is the only way we have of reaching the general public. You have been a great help to us.
Again, many thanks!

Rats make mundane drive become dangerous

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor
Driving home Tuesday nights from the Granite City Council meeting is usually a mundane chore, but not this time — unfortunately.
The drive started normally. The engine fired up, the lights came on, and Jack Buck was on the radio touting Joaquin Andujar's mastery of the Astros. Certainly there is nothing unusual in that, especially the part about Andujar.
Driving over the last cobblestone street in Granite City, 20th Street, I vaguely wondered if it was such a great decision to pave the street, as is planned. It seems at least a block of the street ought to be preserved, but maybe I'm too nostalgic.
The light was red at 20th Street and Madison, as usual. Sometimes I wonder if traffic lights possess an alien intelligence that tell them to turn red whenever they see my car.
The heavy rains had, delightfully, not swelled the lake often found on 20th Street across from Granite City Steel. It was at low tide.

I hung a right on Route 203, musing that the rock pile on the corner looked about as much like a mountain as can be found in Illinois and then, looking ahead at the railroad tracks, I thought about the fact the railroad signals there never seem to work right. Sometimes they're on and there are no trains, and sometimes they're off when there's a slow-moving train.
At the big curve on Route 203, near Louis Baer School, I began to think about the police reports over the last few weeks. Because of the reports, my thoughts of what was ahead began to slow the pace of my driving.
The heavy overcast made it dark, pitch dark, except the kind of atmosphere vermin love to hide in.
And rats, the two-legged variety, had been crawling on the road ahead. Madison police reports had revealed that.

Over Route 203, just after the bridge, is the Norfolk and Western Railroad trestle. Usually just another landmark, this time it was ominous, dark, foreboding.
I slowed way down now, looking up to see if there were any rats standing on the trestle.
That's where they stand, you know? Late at night, under cover of darkness, they stand there waiting for cars to pass. They hold bricks — sometimes several mortared together — letting them fall onto oncoming cars.
The results are predictable.
Glass shatters, the car comes to a screeching halt, the driver gets out and stares up at the trestle. But the rats, being cowardly creatures afraid of confrontation, have already scampered off.
An unwise driver, perhaps doing the speed limit of 45 mph, could quite easily lose control of his car, swerve into the opposite lane in the path of an oncoming truck and, well, you know the rest.

And so it was with admitted trepidation that I approached the Route 203 railroad trestle Tuesday night, craning my neck while staring up into the darkness, driving at about 10 mph.
Fortunately for me, I passed the trestle without incident. For 11 others in the past three weeks, however, passing the trestle meant broken windshields and badly damaged vehicle bodies.
No one has been seriously injured... so far. But the rats seem to be trying.
Hopefully, Madison police plan to trap some rats before the trestle traps snap down on the backs of the vermin that infest the railroad trestle, every late night on Route 203 has been a lot more dangerous than even Andujar's high and inside fastball.

Some new faces on the comment page — yours

Paul Harvey and Art Buchwald have been a main ingredient of the Journal for many years, and over the years we've received calls from readers who appreciate the distinct writing style of each author.
But something this community is not used to is home price, that is, you prefer commentary on issues that hit close to home.

Faced with the choice of dropping two fine columnists and offending long-time readers, versus meeting the need to provide more local commentary, our ability to be flexible to meet the needs of our readers has once more been challenged.
Our solution, quite simply, is to continue with those long-running columnists in the Journal Wednesday. In the Sunday paper we plan to offer regular columns by community members such as Norman Hall, who has graciously started off this week with his views on the need for township tax collectors.

In addition, members of the staff have expressed interest in discussing their own experiences in covering the Quad City Area. Recently, Susanne Indelicato wrote a fine piece on being stranded on the Poplar Street bridge, a somewhat harrowing experience to which everyone could relate.

From time to time, Harvey or Buchwald will find their way back on the Sunday comment page. But we consider the comment page to be, above all else, your page for your columns and your letters.
After all, "We're all about you."

County 'interest' in your taxes

Every year about this time, property owners think about paying real estate taxes.
However, this year in Madison County, rather than the usual postponements until July or even September, our bills were mailed on June 1. Illinois law has stipulated (for many years) that tax bills be issued by June 1 or as soon as possible thereafter.
This year, a tip of my hat to county officials. The bills are out when they should be, and local government units should receive their money on time, saving local government bodies considerable interest money on anticipation warrants.

Adding to this, last year's Illinois Supreme Court's decision said interest earned by county collectors on taxes collected for our schools, towns, etc., must be passed on to those bodies — a grand victory for your local taxing units. After all, the only reason we collect real estate taxes is to support our taxing bodies. It sounds like all is well in Madison County, doesn't it?
What appears to be well is not always so. Almost simultaneous with the Supreme Court's ruling, Illinois Senate Bill 1478 was passed, and with the governor's signature, became law!

Your views

NORM HALL is the former tax collector for Nameoki township, and is presently a trustee. He is employed by Illinois Power.

This new law ironically dealt with interest earned by county collectors on real estate taxes collected and held for later disbursement. It stipulates the county collector must disburse funds within 30 days after the due date of each installment, and if he does so, any interest earned remains with the county.
If funds are not disbursed within 30 days after the due date, interest earned from then on must be paid to the receiving taxing body.
However, if that taxing body perceives the interest, they must lower their tax levy by an equivalent amount. They can, however, choose to donate the interest money to maintain the county jail.
This new law is not aware of the impact of this new law or the cost of holding back tax revenues. Take an average suburban township with a tax collection figure of over $3 million. If that money is held back just 30 days at 8 percent interest, taxing bodies waiting for that money will be paying interest on anticipation warrants at least 2 percent higher. The loss to your taxing bodies would be $25,000 in interest ($3 million multiplied by 10 percent divided by 12 months).

A prime example of what can happen if this law is not altered was covered by local news media on March 2 when the St. Clair County treasurer reported he found a legal loophole to earn $251,000 in additional interest for his county government. How? By simply holding money home taxes, which were payable last spring, drawing interest on them for six, eight or 10 months and then dispersing them.
Is this fair? For whom was that revenue collected? Certainly not county government's benefit, but for the benefit of those taxing bodies attempting to provide you, the taxpayers, with the services you desire.
The only way township government can circumvent the possibility of real estate tax revenue holding and assure prompt distribution in the future is to utilize their own tax collector and instruct immediate (seven day) distribution. It keeps that money out of the hands of those who would hold it.
I still believe there is no need of a dual collection system, but until the current inequities of the law are corrected, it's the only way to protect the taxpayers' interest. After all, in the end, who ends up paying? You and I, the taxpayers.

Notes on news

Violent crime

Occasionally a pessimistic note punctuates the hopeful refrain known as American society. One recently sounded: A violent-crime-risk study by the Justice Department found that 6 million Americans annually — 3 percent of the population 12 years and older — are the victims of violent crimes.
The study, known as the Crime Risk Index, is a statistical indicator based on interviews with 125,000 persons at six-month intervals during a five-year period. According to the index, a black male has a 1-in-21 chance of being murdered, compared with the 1-in-131 chance faced by a white male. For all females, there is an estimated 1-in-282 chance of being murdered, and for all males, the chance is 1-in-84.
In addition, the study found that certain sub-groups of the population are particularly prone to the violent crimes of rape, robbery, and assault. Young adults were more likely to be victimized by violent crimes than the elderly; poor persons more likely than wealthy persons; single or divorced persons more likely than married persons; and blacks more likely than whites.
These statistics are numbing. And it's as sad as it is shocking that the index concludes that crime is the chief malady of American society. Longer sentences, stiffer penalties, tougher judges, more prisons, citizen vigilance — these are generally accepted but insufficiently applied cures for lawlessness.

Bishop to attend clergy convention

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

Sacred Heart of Jesus Polish National Catholic Church, 930 Reynolds St., Madison, will host a three day clergy conference to begin Monday with Bishop Zawistowski of Chicago presiding.

Priests and lay people of the Polish Catholic Church, representing the Western Diocese of the Polish Church, will attend the sessions. Areas of the diocese include Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri.

The main subjects for discussion on the agenda will be in relation to the general convention in 1988 to be held in Manchester, N.H., financial structure of the diocese, youth programs within each parish and the religious Sunday School program.

Monday will be designated as a fellowship for former pastors of the host church; guests and members of the congregation, at 6 p.m. at the church.

Tuesday and Wednesday will commence with breakfast and then conference discussion from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Lunch will be served, followed by afternoon discussions in session from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m.

The visiting bishop will be celebrant at both Masses on Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p.m., according to the Rev. Edmund Mlynarczyk, host priest.

The denomination has synod meetings every four years and diocese session on a two-year basis to guide each parish in fulfilling its obligations set at the general convention.

Rev. Mlynarczyk explained the Polish National Catholic Church came into existence in 1897 when a group of people broke away from the Roman Catholic Church. The decision to form another church originated in Scranton, Pa.

Each of the churches is owned by the people who organized the parish and the Parish Board is responsible for financial decisions. The clergy heads the spiritual segment of the parish, Rev. Mlynarczyk said.

He added that this concept was taken back to Poland and accepted in 1921. However, when Hitler invaded Poland, he changed the name of the church to Polish Catholic Church and forbade the congregations to use the term "national" in the formal name.

There are some differences in the masses between the Roman Catholic and Polish National Catholic; however, the Masses were always read in Polish until 1958 when the English language was instituted in the church.

The late Bishop Hodor, the first bishop and organizer of the new religious concept, also started another first in the church by forming a women's group and allowing women of the parish to vote on church policies, serve on the parish and seasons boards, serve as delegates to the conventions and also become members of the supreme council of the church.

Women of Sacred Heart of Jesus Church belong to the Adoration society and perform specific duties within the parish.

Father Mlynarczyk said the churches in Poland are allowed to function as a religious organization but are forbidden to do any type of printing.

Bishop Padewski, a United States citizen, elected to return to Poland in the 1950's and upon his arrival was placed under house arrest and later died in prison, the Madison priest said.

However, the people of Poland managed to get a message to the American people who, in turn, tried to work through the U.S. ambassador in Poland to release the bishop. This did not happen.

Mayor answers complaints

A new method of selecting employees for the Granite City Mayor's Paint Program resulted in complaints from several aldermen.

Instead of the mayor picking the employees, each alderman was given a list of applicants from his ward. The aldermen then were given the decision of picking four employees out of the resumes.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, Second Ward, asked Cruse why the change of method had been instituted.

"Why are the aldermen getting involved in this," Whitmer said. "You gave me a list of nine people and I picked two of them, but now I have seven other applicants aggravated with me."

Cruse said he had received many complaints on the way the paint program had been run in the past. In particular, there had been complaints about who had been hired.

Cruse said he thinks it is more fair to allow the aldermen of each ward to pick which of their constituents will get the jobs.

"Because of the concern, however, Cruse said he will pick the employees if the aldermen do not wish to do so."

"If anybody doesn't want to take the heat, give the applicants back to me, and I'll be more than happy to do it," Cruse said.

After the discussion, Alderman Lloyd Bailey told Cruse he appreciated the opportunity to be involved in the selection of applicants.

Band concerts planned

The Granite City Park District and the American Federation of Musicians Local 717 are sponsoring big band concerts again this summer.

The kickoff concert is scheduled for this Wednesday, June 12, at Wilson Park from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Stan Fornaszewski will direct a 17-piece band that will bring back the sounds of the 1940s. Concerts are scheduled for every other Wednesday in various parks around town.

The park district's summer recreation program for children in grades two through six is also scheduled to begin this week. It will consist of games, weekly movies, swim tournaments and trips.

The programs will be held at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos, and the Lincoln Place Community Center, 822 Niedringhaus. The program lasts for seven weeks.

Fees for the program are $4 for residents of the park district and $8 for non-residents.

Other events planned at the Wilson Park Pool include 25-cent swim days. Beginning with last Friday, June 7, anyone with a park identification card can swim at the pool for only 25 cents.

The park district will also hold two nights for teenagers at the pool. A band will provide music from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. Admission will be at regular pool prices. The dates will be announced later.

VITAL STATISTICS REPORTED
The Granite City Clerk's office reported 59 births, 46 deaths and no fetal deaths in the city during the month of May.

Organ donations help keep son's memory alive

The memory of a former Granite City resident will live on because of a difficult decision made by his family.

When William Harold Childers, 21, was declared "brain dead" at Erlanger Medical Center in Chattanooga, Tenn., last week, family members decided to donate all of his useable organs to help save the lives of others.

"He didn't have many accomplishments in his lifetime, but the one thing that he did have going for him was that he was strong-bodied—he was very healthy," said Jerry Giffin of Granite City, Childers' mother. "We felt he would have wanted to do this, so we did it in his memory."

Several teams, totalling 34 doctors, removed the heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, corneas, pancreas and bones from Childers' body.

It is believed the organs were placed in five different people in the four days following the operations.

William Childers

The heart and lungs were flown nearly 600 miles away to a Pittsburgh, Pa., hospital, where they helped to save the life of a woman.

The kidneys were flown to the Nashville Regional Organ Procurement Agency to be matched with patients waiting for transplants. The corneas will be placed through the Lions Club Eye Bank and Miller Clinic for transplant to local patients. Childers' liver will be taken to Nashville, Tenn., for research.

Several of Childers' bones, including long bones, portions of the knees, spine and bone marrow, were sent to the Atlanta Regional Tissue Bank, where they may benefit as many as 50 people.

Bone donations may be used for scoliosis correction, facial reconstruction, to repair bones damaged by tumor operations and for patients who have had to undergo an amputation of a limb.

A combination heart-and-lungs transplantation is considered rare, since lung tissue may only survive outside the body for 60 minutes. But because of development of a plexiglass box by a team of physicians several years ago, lung tissue is able to survive for three hours before being transplanted.

Despite the number of organs removed from a donor's body, reconstruction can be done at the end of the procedure, so there is no evidence an organ donation has taken place.

Giffin said the decision of permitting the organ transplants was a difficult one. But she said she could see "no sense in wasting what Bill had."

"Bill's still going to live on," said Giffin. "And we want other people to realize that even though a loved one dies, someone else can be saved from their illness through organ donations."

"It was a fantastic idea to have a center here. Many students didn't attend school because there was no place to go that was close. If they didn't have the center here, a lot of students wouldn't be going to school. I like the family atmosphere of the center. Everyone is friendly and courteous. They go out of their way to help."

School board OKs bid

The Granite City School Board June 4 accepted a bid from Jostens of Topeka, Kansas, to publish the high school Warrior yearbook for the next two years.

Jostens' bid was $38,154 for the two years.

According to Robert Johnson, Warrior yearbook advisor, the school was not happy with the quality of this year's book, done by Walsworth Publishing Co. Johnson said photo reproduction was below standard and some covers had become easily separated from the binding.

Johnson indicated he felt the district deserved a "substantial financial consideration for lack of proper quality control in the production process."

He intends to meet with a representative of Walsworth to discuss the matter.

In other business, the board is changing the date of its next meeting from June 18 to June 25.

With the fiscal year ending on June 30, it was recommended the meeting be moved to June 25 to allow the accounting department time to draw up necessary legal transactions.

The board also passed a resolution to allow Norman Owca, director of finance, to prepare a tentative budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

DR. REDMOND

Redmond ready for school job

By DAVE WHALEY

Dr. Max Redmond, soon-to-be superintendent of the Granite City School District, attended his first school board meeting June 4.

Redmond, 47, is scheduled to take over as superintendent July 1, but began work at board offices June 3. He was impressed with his first board meeting.

"They (the board) seem to be very agreeable," Redmond said. "Everything seemed to go well tonight."

Redmond said he has found a house in Granite City and is in the process of moving his wife, Bonnie, into town.

Frank Kraus, the outgoing superintendent, is wasting no time getting Redmond acquainted with district personnel. He took Redmond on a tour of the schools last week, before the year ended.

"This way, all the principals and other personnel will at least recognize him before next fall," Kraus said. "He'll be meeting so many people, he won't remember them, but they will know him."

Kraus, scheduled to retire July 1 after more than 30 years with the district, said he might work a few extra days after that date to help Redmond get acclimated.

Redmond is a native of Hayti, Mo., in the Missouri bootheel. He did his undergraduate and master's work at Arkansas State University. He received a Ph.D. in education administration from the University of Iowa in 1978.

He began his teaching career in Tusculum, Mo., in 1966, and has served as a superintendent in Central City, Iowa; Fort Madison, Iowa; Hayti; and most recently in the Pemiscot County Special School District in Braggadoocio, Mo.

Redmond is a veteran of the Korean Conflict, having served with the U.S. Navy on the U.S.S. Norton Sound.

Before taking a position with the fire department nearly 20 years ago, Redmond was employed as a methods engineer with McDonnell Douglas Corp.

Schmidtke and his wife, Norma, have two children, Bryan, 23, and Becky, 21. They reside at 2829 Sunset Drive.

Old Six Mile holds meeting

The Old Six Mile Historical Society held its June meeting at the Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

New officers and board members were installed by Don Gargac. They are Georgia Engleke, president; Marguerite Barker, vice president; Ruth Allen, recording secretary; and Lillian Delp, corresponding secretary.

Board members for 1985-86 are Marguerite Leavoy, Francis Hawk, Jesse Eldes, Waldo Frohardt, Tom Pope and Elmer Stille.

It was reported that over 250 people attended the ribbon-cutting ceremony May 18 when the museum was opened.

Old Six Mile will host the annual meeting of the Madison County Historical Society on Oct. 6.

Tentative plans are being made to hold an antiques and antique car show in the fall.

The society will have a flea market booth during a sidewalk sale June 27, 28 and 29.

Refreshments were served by Georgia Engleke, Clara Schilling and Ron Coleman.

There will be no general meetings in July and August. The next meeting will be held on Sept. 9, the second Monday of September.

'Y' Camp Adventure begins Monday

Monday, June 10, will be the first day of YMCA Camp Adventure for children ages 6 to 13 years. Camp Adventure has been greatly improved and highly developed to provide boys and girls a summer of fun activities, according to James Gavin, director.

Children will participate in such activities as crafts, volleyball, racquetball, whiffleball, basketball, soccer, swimming, tennis, softball, canoeing, walking a nature trail, an obstacle course, and tours to such places as Grant's Farm, the Botanical Gardens, the Magic House, the Museum of Transportation, the St. Louis Zoo, Anheuser Busch, the Historical Society, and to Granite City locations such as St. Elizabeth Medical Center, city hall, the post office, fire department and the police department. They will also visit Wilson Park, St. Flagg and a special Cardinal baseball game on Aug. 15, which is free for all children who attended at least one week of camp. This year's Camp Adventure staff is Gavin; Lori Fuller, counselor, a journalism/recreation administration major at Eastern Illinois University; Clark Irwin, counselor, a theology student at St. Louis Christian College; Randy Knucka, counselor, who studied psychology at East Central College.

According to Gavin, "The YMCA believes that every child should experience the excitement of going to summer camp. In addition to having fun and learning in a natural environment, meeting people from other communities and recognizing their needs, and developing leadership skills, the YMCA is dedicated to developing each camper's sense of confidence and self-appreciation."

The camp will run for 10 one-week sessions. For further information, interested persons may call the "Y" at 876-7200. Gavin also reminded campers to bring a sack lunch, swim suit, towel, and a lock for their locker.

Parente clarifies reason, Cruse disputes it

In a statement last week, Joe Parente, coordinator of Madison County Community Development, clarified his statement on the reason for the hold on Granite City funds earmarked for sewer breaks.

Parente said the hold has been placed on the funds after a request from the mayor, who asked if the money could be used for a study on the sewer break problem.

Parente said the Housing and Urban Development requirement that the breaks be "of recent origin" caused the funding to be cut off for sewer breaks in the next appropriation, but had nothing to do with the current hold on funds.

However, Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse still contends the request to use the funds for a study came after Community Development informed him the current funding could not be used for the repair of sewer breaks.

"He's crazy," Cruse said, referring to Parente's explanation of events. "We only asked to do the study after repair funds were held up."

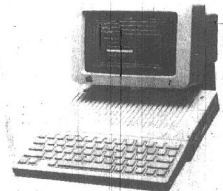

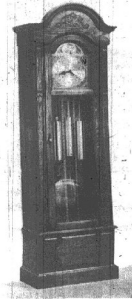

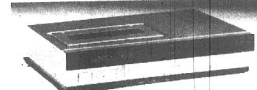

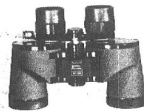

Cruse told council members Tuesday night he is unhappy with the funding the city has been getting from Madison County Community Development. He said his staff is looking into other means of funding for the city.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT ALLEGED AGAINST MAN

Rickey B. Wallace, 37, of 2440 Terminal Ave., was arrested at his home June 2, after an incident at 2127 Lee Ave. He was charged with two counts of aggravated assault and one count of unlawful use of a weapon.

Wallace allegedly went to the Lee Avenue address and approached his former wife, Linda Wallace, and another woman, Marie Hughes, with a .25 caliber pistol. Wallace allegedly yelled profanity at the women before leaving in an auto.

ALCOHOL-RELATED INCIDENT RESULTS IN ARREST OF TWO

Two Madison residents were arrested June 2 at Nameoki Road and Path Avenue, after police allegedly found two open cans of beer on the front floorboard of a vehicle in which they were riding.

Tracy L. Epke, 20, of 1419 Third St., Madison, was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol. William H. Lindsey, 20, of 1542 Third St., Madison, was charged with illegal possession of alcohol.

GC MAN SERVED WARRANT

William L. Gibson, 21, of 2020 Ohio Ave., was arrested June 3 on a warrant alleging failure to appear on a possession of alcohol charge. Gibson was arrested at 22nd Street and Ohio Avenue, where he was also charged with disobeying a traffic control device.

LOGAN SCHOOL VANDALIZED

Logan School, West 25th Street and Ohio Avenue, was vandalized June 2, with black ink splattered on a wall, lockers and floor. Several windows were broken and some audio visual equipment was damaged. It is not clear how entry was gained, reports said.

WARRANT IS SERVED

James E. Hotz Jr., 30, of Freeburg, was arrested by Granite City officer June 2, after being served a warrant alleging battery.

REPORTS BICYCLES GONE

Joann Dickerson of 2324 Lincoln Ave., told police June 3, someone took two bicycles from her backyard. One of the bicycles was a 20-inch boy's bike with red handlebars, a red seat and black mag wheels. The other was a 20-inch bike with black handlebars, a black seat, blue fenders and red rear wheel.

CRIMINAL DAMAGE CHARGED

David W. Price, 27, of Edwardsville, was arrested by police June 2 after he allegedly drove a truck across the yard of Charles Lewis, 2754 Nameoki Drive. Price was charged with criminal damage to property. He was released on $52 cash bail.

TOOLS GONE FROM CAR

Al and Tammy Robertson of 2424 Ohio Ave., told police June 3, someone took a tool box containing $500 worth of hand tools from their 1972 auto. The Robertsons said they loaned the car to an acquaintance over the weekend and later discovered the tools were missing.

LICENSE IS REVOKED

The Illinois Secretary of State's office has announced the driver's license of Michael E. Copeland, 25, of 27a Lakeview Drive, Pontoon Beach, has been revoked for a conviction on a driving under the influence of alcohol charge. Copeland was arrested on the charge Oct. 23, 1983.

HONDA DIRT BIKE STOLEN

Judy Sharp of 700 Ashland Ave., Mitchell, reported that someone took a red, 1983 Honda XR80 dirt bike from her unlocked garage May 31. The bike was valued at $1,000.

BURGLARS TAKE GUNS, LIQUOR AND WALLET

In a burglary at the home of Stan Mueller, 500 Jefferson Ave., Venice, reported May 30, three bottles of whiskey, a bottle of wine, a half-case of beer, a brown billfold and a bottle of liquor were among the items stolen.

Also found to be missing from the residence were a .50 caliber muzzle-loading rifle with a bayonet and a .45/70 caliber weapon.

Mueller arrived home to find the front door open, he told police. The door screen had been cut and a glass pane was broken.

THREE INJURED IN VENICE ACCIDENT

Three persons sustained minor injuries in a May 28 traffic mishap near Bissell and Weaver avenues, Venice.

Motorists involved in the accident, who suffered minor injuries, according to police reports, were Debbie J. Davis, 25, of East St. Louis; Delisa F. Crockrell, 20, of 81 Weaver Avenue; and Reginald E. Dabbs, 27, of East St. Louis.

CHILD NEGLECT ALLEGED

Two children, ages 8 and 10, were found alone in a house in Madison by a police officer who responded to a call from the frightened children at 11 a.m. Monday.

The children said they thought they heard voices in the house. The mother was at work at the time.

When the officer arrived, he searched the premises and could not find anyone around; however, he found the house in total disarray and an unbearable stench, according to the report.

The front door was open, and files and roaches were found in the house, as well as seven or eight cats.

Officers contacted the mother at work, and she told them she made arrangements for the children to stay with a neighbor while she was at work. Police contacted Department of Children and Family Services to report the incident of possible child neglect and violation of the city's health code.

CHECK FORGED

A $170 check made out to Richard Ryan, 2348 Delmar Ave., from the Hartford Insurance Co., in January, was reported endorsed and cashed by someone else June 5.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY

Two white male youths were seen by a witness entering a basement window at 2308 Bryan Ave. June 5. Police have one suspect in the attempted burglary, in which nothing was found missing from the home of Donald Miller.

FLOWERS STOLEN

Several boxes of assorted flowers were taken from the home of Schuck's store, 3801 Nameoki Road, June 4.

THREE CAR MISHAP INJURES GC DRIVER

Dennis McGuire, 2128 Missouri Ave., told Venice police June 1 he was examined by a physician at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for a neck injury he sustained in an accident on Illinois Route 3 near Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

McGuire was one of three drivers involved in the mishap which occurred June 1. The other vehicles were driven by Rubye L. Higgins, 21, of East St. Louis, and Charles E. Lewis, 37, of Brooklyn, Ill.

RESISTING, CONDUCT CHARGES ARE ALLEGED

Wade J. Hanna, 27, of 801 Greenwood St., Madison, was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest May 31 after officers went to an address in the 2100 block of Benton Street in response to a disturbance call.

Jennie Littlejohn of the Benton Street address alleged Hanna had refused to leave her dwelling.

Hanna also declined to leave, although asked three times to do so by police, and started to argue with officers when placed under arrest, reports alleged.

At the booking window, the Madison man was uncooperative and raised his voice to officers, it was alleged.

CAR APPARENTLY SHOT

A Granite City woman discovered a dent in her car and a 22 caliber slug in her driveway June 4.

Sally Mangoff, 3028 Romona Drive said she heard a noise in her driveway June 1, but didn't discover anything until June 4. A dent was found on the rear left quarter of her car.

ARRESTED ON WARRANT

Mark Callender, 29, 2108 Missouri Ave., was arrested June 5 on a warrant for criminal damage to property. Callender later posted bond and was released.

CHARGED IN DUI

Charles Butler, 22, of St. Louis, was arrested on a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol after being stopped on Rock Road early June 6. Butler's car was seen running two stop signs while westbound on Rock Road.

SHOE STORE VANDALIZED

Four bricks were thrown through four plate glass windows at the Payless Shoe Source, 3020 Madison Ave., on June 7, it was reported. No apparent entry was made into the store, however.

WHEEL COVERS TAKEN

James Miller, 2608 Cleveland Blvd., reported June 7, the theft of his 1980 Chevrolet, while the vehicle was parked in front of his home.

FOUR CHARGES ALLEGED AGAINST GC RESIDENT

John L. Ishum, 27, of 2200 Missouri Ave., was arrested at his home June 6 and charged with battery, not having a Firearm Owner's Identification card, disorderly conduct and criminal damage to property.

In a complaint signed by Penny Jackson of the 2200 block of Missouri Avenue, she alleged Ishum tore up the inside of the house, breaking shelving. She also alleged Ishum fired a .12 gauge shotgun and he had battered her during the night.

ARRESTED THURSDAY ON ALCOHOL-RELATED CHARGE

Steven M. Landys, 21, of 5409 Evergreen St., was arrested June 6 at Victory Drive and Marshall Avenue, after police allegedly found an open bottle of beer in a car in which he was a passenger.

Driver of the vehicle, Terry L. King, 20, of 2529 Northbridge, was charged with not having a valid registration. Both men were released on their signatures.

TWO HURT IN ACCIDENT THURSDAY ON 9TH STREET

Robert Harper, 34, of Rural Route 2, and Dennis L. Douglas, 22, of Granite City, were injured June 6 when their cars collided at 20th Street and Illinois Avenue.

Harper was traveling south on Illinois Avenue, stopped at a stop sign and attempted to enter Illinois Avenue, when his pickup truck and Douglas' eastbound auto collided, Harper told police.

DRIVER INJURED WHEN CAR HITS UTILITY POLE

George C. Brissette, 24, of 1614 Courtenay Blvd., was injured June 7, when his car hit a utility pole and street sign at 1430 State St.

Brissette was northbound on State Street when a southbound auto crossed over the center line into his path, causing him to swerve to the right and strike the sign and pole, he told police. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

GARAGE BURGLARY

Carl Petty of 2425 Hodges Ave., told police someone broke into his garage June 6. A list of missing items was being compiled.

Robert Humphreys Sr.

Robert O. Humphreys Sr., 88, of 1009 Rhodes St., Madison, a retired blacksmith, died at 11:05 p.m. Friday, June 7, 1985, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was 112 years old at the medical center two hours. Born April 26, 1897, in Henderson, Ky., Mr. Humphreys had resided in Granite City since 1930.

Prior to retiring in 1962, he was employed 32 years as a blacksmith at the former General Steel Industries plant here.

Mr. Humphreys was a U.S. Army veteran, having served in World War I. He was of the Protestant faith.

His wife, the former Clara Belle Frew, died in 1974. He was also preceded in death by a son, Frank Humphreys.

Among the survivors are two sons, Robert O. Humphreys Jr., of Madison and George Humphreys of Markato, Minn.; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Jacques of Casper, Wyo., and Mrs. Eudena Roush of Billings, Mont.; seven grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Visitation begins at 6 p.m. Monday at Randall A. Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave., where services will take place at 10 a.m. Tuesday, June 11, with the Rev. James Burnette officiating. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Judge Kinder, a lifetime resident of the Quad-City area, was a widely respected attorney in the Quad-City area for 22 years.

He was selected from among seven applicants as the new associate judge in the Third Judicial Circuit in September 1982 when an additional judgeship was created because of the heavy court caseload in Madison and Bond counties.

Judge Kinder was born Jan. 10, 1936, in Granite City and spent his boyhood and young adult years in Madison. He is a 1954 graduate of Madison High School.

He received a bachelor degree in political science at St. Louis University before obtaining a law degree there in 1963.

Judge Kinder served as a law clerk for U.S. District Judge Omer Poos in Springfield. He ran for circuit judge in the March 1976 Democratic primary election, losing by a narrow margin to Circuit Judge Horace Calvo.

Judge Kinder was a member of Nameoki United Methodist Church. He was active in the citizen advisory group of the Granite City School District and in the Boy Scouts and Explorer Post 10-4 programs.

He was a past president of the Granite City Breakfast Kiwanis Club and was a former Easter Seal Society chairman. He was affiliated with the Illinois Bar Association, American Bar Association and the Illinois Trial Lawyers' Association.

His father, William Kinder Sr., died in 1980.

Among the survivors are his wife, Mrs. Norma J. (Koster) Kinder, a son, Norman H. Kinder III, at home; his mother, Mrs. Ruth (Overby) Kinder of Madison; and a brother, Attorney William F. Kinder of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Randall A. Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave. Friends may call 877-6500 for details.

Ellen Krause

Ellen Janette (Sandy) Krause, 82, of 1737 Spring Ave., died at 6:06 p.m. Thursday, June 6, 1985, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. She had been ill since September 1984, and hospitalized four weeks.

Born in Earlsboro, Okla., Mrs. Krause resided in Granite City for 70 years.

She was retired from Granite City Steel North Plant Office, where she had been employed from 1942 until 1967.

Mrs. Krause was a member of St. John United Church of Christ, a member of the afternoon guilds of the church, Old Six Mile Historical Society, Order of Eastern Star, Nameoki Women's Club, D.U.V. and Hites Memorial Auxiliary.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Hugh G. Krause Sr., in 1962.

Survivors include two sons, Hugh Krause Jr. of Richmond, Va., and William Krause of Chicago; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Visitation was Friday, June 7, at Irwin Chapel for Funerals, 2801 Madison Ave., with services there at 1 p.m. Saturday, the Rev. Allen Reiter officiating. Burial was at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

Wilbert Niepert

Wilbert E. "Bill" Niepert, 54, of 2429 Woodlawn Ave., a former Press-Record employee of many years, died at 6:30 a.m. Saturday, June 8, 1985, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He was in ill health the past six months and was hospitalized four days.

Mr. Niepert, a pressman at the Press-Record for 37 years, retired last December.

He was a veteran of service in the Marine Corps from 1951 until 1953 and was a member of the Quad-City Marine Corps League.

Mr. Niepert was born Sept. 11, 1930, in Madison and resided his entire life in the Quad-City area.

He was a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church and Tri-City American Legion Post 113. He held the rank of Third Degree in the Knights of Columbus Council 1088.

Mr. Niepert and his wife, the former Lorraine Merski, were married May 14, 1955, at St. Mary Norman Kinder Jr.

Associate Judge Norman H. Kinder Jr., 49, of the Third Judicial Circuit Court, was stricken at his home, 2554 Waterman Ave., early Saturday with an apparent heart attack and died at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 3:32 a.m. Saturday, June 8, 1985.

Venice man shot, wounded

An early morning shooting Thursday in Venice left a Venice man critically injured.

Steven E. Palmer Jr., 40, of 1123 Bissell St., was improving Friday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after being hit in the chest and stomach, apparently by a shotgun blast.

Palmer's condition was considered critical Thursday when he underwent surgery at the Granite City Hospital, a Venice policeman said.

The shooting occurred at Weaver and Calhoun streets in Venice, where police found Palmer lying on the sidewalk bleeding. The wounded man was taken by officers in a squad car to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A 22 caliber rifle was lying beside Palmer. Reports noted the weapon was jammed and inoperable at the time, with 13 live rounds in the magazine. One round was on the ground next to the victim.

A vehicle been leaving the vicinity was stopped by police in the 1300 block of Klein Street and the occupants, all from East St. Louis, were questioned. Apparently, the two men and two women in the auto had no connection with the shooting incident.

A passerby reported a man, later identified as Palmer, was sitting on the sidewalk and then fell backward. The passerby was going to help the victim as police arrived.

Several shots were heard prior to Palmer being found, according to one person questioned by police.

Mary Reagan

Mary Elizabeth (Perkins) Reagan, 48, of 161 Hampton Dr., Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, died at 12:50 p.m. Thursday, June 6, 1985, at Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville. She had been ill for one year and hospitalized for 11 days.

Born in Granite City, Mrs. Reagan resided here for 19 years.

She was a member of St. Cecelia Catholic Church in Glen Carbon.

Survivors include her husband, James D. Reagan Sr.; two sons, James D. Reagan Jr. of Bethalto and Thomas W. Reagan at home; one daughter, Patricia Reagan at home; two brothers, Marvin Perkins of Troy and Marlin Perkins of Granite City; two sisters, Mrs. William (Laverne) Mull of Granite City and Mrs. Louie (Mildred) Williams of Granite City; and nieces and nephews.

Visitation was held Friday, June 7, at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus Ave., with services held Saturday at Mercer chapel, the Rev. Virgil Mank officiating. Burial was at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township. The family requests masses to St. Cecelia Church as memorials.

•Slough

You don't want us to have a thing over here."

Granite City Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield, who attended the meeting at the request of the Granite City Council, told the residents they should approach their representatives in Washington D.C. and request that the Corps leave the well in the slough area.

He also suggested the residents get commitments from several government entities to operate the well.

"IF YOU GO in front of the Granite City Council and say Nameoki Township is paying a third, the levy district is paying a third and you will pay a third, you might get somewhere," he said.

Greathouse, who contacted the Corps Thursday, said the Corps will not take over the well. Corps officials told Greathouse the easement for the well expired May 29, but a 60-day extension was obtained.

If, after 30 days, no one offers to operate the well, the Corps will begin removing it from the property. GREATHOUSE SAID he plans to meet with Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs and residents in the area to discuss efforts to retain the well.

Nameoki Township Trustee Norman Hall has been investigating the possibility of the township getting involved in the well's operation. During testing, the well was able to "draw down" the underground water level by 700 gallons per minute, resulting in a one-foot drop at one monitoring point. The well was tested for 48 hours.

BUT CORPS officials told Greathouse that after the first 48 hours, the well will only decrease the water table by two-tenths of a foot. In addition, they said, the well equipment was only rented for the test, and a new well would cost approximately $5,000.

The well was used to pull water into Dobrey Slough and channel it to a pump station located at the end of the slough near Pontoon Road. That pump station activates when the water level in the slough rises, pulling water into lines leading to the Nameoki Ditch. From there, the water empties into Horseshoe Lake.

During Tuesday night's Granite City Council meeting, Carl Thornberry of 2468 Waterman Ave. presented 456 signatures on petitions asking that the well be maintained. Mayor Von Dee Cruse said his assistant, Henry Bielecki, has been in contact with the office of U.S. Sen. Paul Simon's, D-Illinois, office about the water table problem and its effects on sewer lines. He estimates that an engineering study on the water table will take six to nine months.

Granite City, everyone loves a

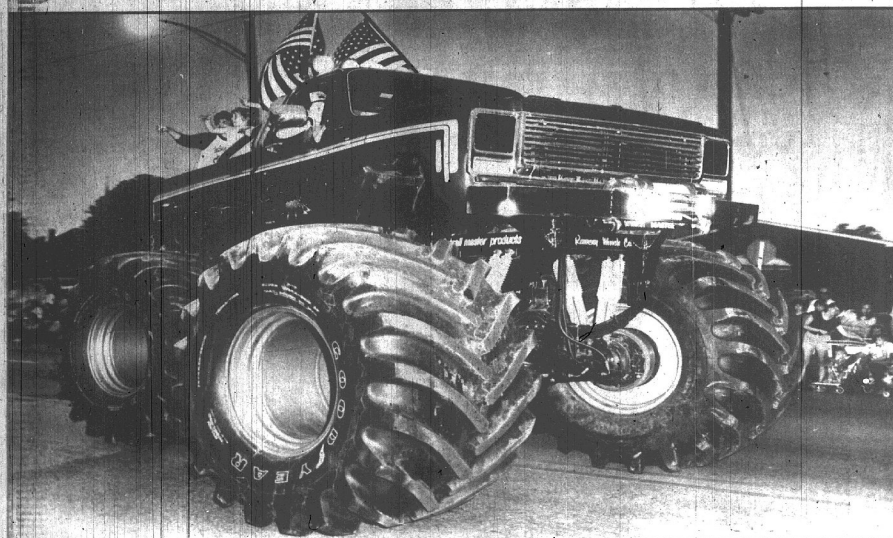

Parade

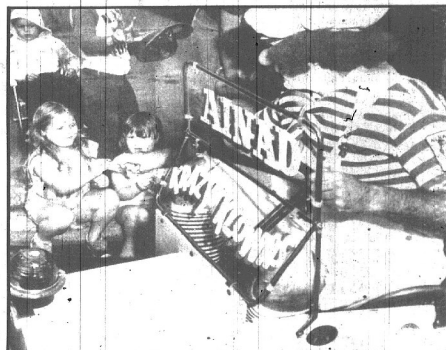

A TWO-DECKER FLOAT. Perry County Shriners wave to the crowd from their double-decker.

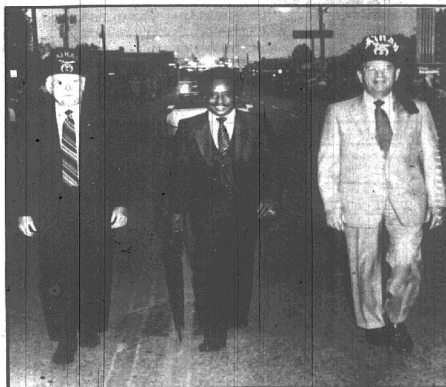

CLOWNS, CANDY AND KIDS. An Ainald Shrine clown passes out candy to children.

TAURUS THE BULL. The giant pickup truck from Madison weaves from curb to curb.

A KRAZY KLOWN. Balloons and candy are handed out.

MAYORAL LEADERSHIP. The three local mayors lead.

This year's Ainald Shrine parade is no exception to the old saying, "withstanding the thousands who lined the parade route and braved the restlessness weather." Clowns of all descriptions handed out candy and balloons to the cheering children and Shriners sold tickets to the Shrine Circus performances. Leading the parade this year were the mayors of the three communities — Von Dee Cruse of Granite City, Tyrone Echols of Venice and John Belkoff of Madison. The three walked side by side the entire route of the parade. Shrine bands, high school bands and bagpipe bands played a variety of marching songs and police cars and fire trucks blasted the crowd with the shrill sounds of sirens.

Beauty queens and decorated floats were also in abundance as were Ainald Shrine dignitaries, each wearing the distinctive red fez. Not as fortunate, because of the weather, were the performances of the Shrine Circus, cancelled due to drenching rains. There is some consolation, however, for holders of tickets to the local circus performances. These tickets can be redeemed at the circus performances in Belleville, to which an extra show has been added. There will be three performances of the circus on Sunday at 1 p.m., 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. All tickets for the Granite City shows will be honored at all three of the Belleville shows, presented at the Belle-Clair Fairgrounds.

"Replacing an air conditioner can also cut your heating costs!"

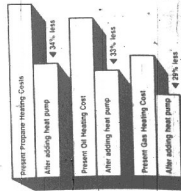

Need to replace a worn out central air conditioner? If you do, consider installing a heat pump/air conditioner.

When you add a heat pump to your existing furnace, you will be getting a very efficient central air conditioner. You will also reduce your heating costs next winter by a substantial margin!

Depending on the type of fuel you use—propane, oil or natural gas—the savings can range from 29% to 34%.

For more information about the energy saving heat pump, call the Marketing Advisor at Illinois Power.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gordon III

Gordon-Elmore

The wedding of Miss Janet Marie Elmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Elmore, 1540 Joy Ave., and Thomas Stanley Gordon III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Gordon, 717 Rhodes St., Madison, was solemnized on March 16 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

Officiating at the 2 o'clock afternoon ceremony was the Rev. Frank Sordek. Ron Asbeck sang several wedding selections during the service.

Matron of honor was Terri Schmidt and bridesmaids included, Donna Langenstein, a sister of the groom, Cathy Neidhardt, Cathy Gordon, the groom's sister, and Suzanne Kaiser. Erin Langenstein, a niece of the groom, was the flower girl.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Phillip Gordon. Groomsman and ushers were, David, Danny, Dwayne and Darrell Elmore, brothers of the bride, Mark Ruesing, a cousin of the groom, and Joel Langenstein, a brother-in-law of the groom.

Lisa Martin and Bethany McGinness, cousins of the bride, presided over the guest book.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Ralph and Charlie's Restaurant and the reception was hosted at Polish Hall in Madison. Among the guests were grandparents of the bride couple, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dowdy, Granite City, Mrs. Marie Elmore of Wood River, Mrs. Natalie Turski, Madison, and Mrs. Elizabeth Gordon, Granite City.

A 1978 graduate of Granite City High School South, the bride also graduated from SIUE in 1982 with a degree in special education—elementary education. She is employed as a special education teacher at the Catholic Children's Home in Alton.

The groom was graduated in 1977 from Assumption High School, East St. Louis, and in 1982 from SIUE with a B.S. degree in biology and B.A. degree in chemistry. He works for Sigma Chemicals in St. Louis, as a chemist.

After a wedding trip to Florida the newlywed couple is now residing in Madison.

Rev. and Mrs. Richard Unger

Rev. and Mrs. Richard Unger celebrate 25th anniversary

The Rev. and Mrs. Richard Unger Sr., 26 Victoria Drive, renewed their wedding vows on the 25th anniversary of their wedding at 3 p.m. June 8 at the Holy Trinity Church of the Nazarene in Glen Carbon.

Rev. Unger is pastor of the church. He and the former Pat Allison, both formerly of Edwardsville, were married June 11, 1960, in Decatur, Ill.

They are the parents of two children, Richard Jr., a student at Kirkville Missouri Medical School, and Rodney, a student at the University of Illinois at Champaign.

Their children and the church congregation hosted an open house reception immediately following the ceremony in the church fellowship hall.

Johnson-Mase

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Mary Esther, Fla., announce the engagement of their daughter, Debra Lynn, to Richard Alan Mase, son of former Granite Citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Mase, 124 Indian Circle, Chilo, Texas.

Their wedding will take place at 3 p.m. June 22 at the Chapel Center, Hurlburt Field, Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

The bride-elect is a 1979 graduate of Fort Walton Beach High School and is employed at the Kettle Restaurant on Okaloosa Island.

Her fiancé, a 1978 graduate of Granite City High School South, is a staff sergeant in the U.S. Air Force and is enrolled in the Community College of the USAF. He is the grandson of Mrs. Marie V. Cann of Granite City and the late Arthur L. Cann.

Morris-Koesterer

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris and Ray Koesterer of Granite City, and Mrs. Billy Popovsky of Phoenix, Ariz., are announcing the forthcoming nuptials of their children, Lisa A.

Morris to Robert J. Koesterer on Aug. 3.

The ceremony will take place in the Wilson Park Gazebo. A reception will follow immediately at the home of the bride's parents.

YMCA Kiddie Camp begins Monday

YMCA Kiddie Camp, for children ages 3 to 5 years, will begin Monday, June 10, and run for six one-week sessions. Kiddie Camp is specially designed to give 3 to 5 year olds their first experience at camp, and to prepare them for the adjustments of school. Planned activities include arts and crafts, sing alongs, nature study, camping skills and active games.

This year's counselors are James R. Gavin, director, and Susan Schnefke, counselor, an elementary education major at SEMO.

Gavin stressed that the key to the camp will be "fun in a learning environment." For further information, interested persons may call the YMCA at 876-7200.

Social Notes

Record / Journal Sunday

CANADIAN BREAKFAST BAKE
1 (12 oz.) pkg. frozen hash
brown potatoes
¾ cup milk
¾ cup sour cream
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
2 tbsps. chopped chives
2 tbsps. chopped bell pepper
4 slices Canadian bacon
4 eggs
¼ cup grated cheddar
cheese
Dash paprika

Place potatoes in 8x8-inch square glass baking dish. Microwave, covered, 8 to 7 minutes, until defrosted and partially cooked.

To potatoes, add milk, sour cream, salt, pepper, chives and bell pepper. Stir to blend well.

Arrange Canadian bacon slices, overlapping as needed, down center of dish. With back of spoon, make two indentations in potatoes on either side of bacon. Crack 1 egg into each "nest"; cover.

Microwave on MEDIUM (50 percent power) for 5 minutes, or until eggs are almost set. Sprinkle tops of eggs with grated cheddar cheese, then lightly dust with paprika.

Replace cover and microwave 1 or 2 minutes longer, until eggs are set and cheese is melted. Let stand, covered, 1 minute before serving.

Serves 4.

WALNUT-STREUSEL COFFEE CAKE

Cake:
1½ cups all-purpose flour
1½ tbsps. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
½ cup butter or margarine,
at room temperature

½ cup sugar
1 egg
1 tsp. grated orange or lemon rind
½ tsp. vanilla
½ tsp. ground cloves
½ cup milk

Topping:

¾ cup all-purpose flour
¼ cup brown sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
¼ cup butter or margarine,
at room temperature
½ cup chopped walnuts

To prepare cake, combine flour, baking powder and salt, blending well with fork.

In medium-size mixing bowl, cream together butter and sugar; beat in egg, then add orange or lemon rind, vanilla and cloves.

Stir in milk, blending well, then add dry ingredients, little at a time, beating until smooth.

Turn batter into 9-inch round glass baking dish. Set aside.

For topping, combine flour, brown sugar and cinnamon, stirring with fork to blend.

Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add chopped walnuts, tossing with fork, and sprinkle mixture evenly over top of batter.

Microwave 6 minutes, rotating dish ¼ turn after 3 minutes. Let stand 2 to 3 minutes before cutting and serving. May be served warm or cold.

Makes 1 9-inch coffee cake.

GOURMET HOT MOCHA CHOCOLATE

1 cup semisweet chocolate
bits
2 tbsps. instant coffee granules
1 cup water
1 tsp. vanilla

½ tsp. ground cinnamon
½ tsp. ground nutmeg
4 cups milk
Whipped cream and chocolate shavings (optional)

In large glass bowl, combine chocolate bits, coffee and water. Microwave 3 to 4 minutes, or until chocolate is completely melted.

Stir in remaining ingredients except whipped cream and chocolate shavings. Blend well and microwave 5 to 6 minutes longer. Serve hot, garnished with whipped cream and shaved chocolate, if desired.

Serves 4.

SATURDAY NIGHT CASSEROLE

1 lb. lean ground beef
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped green pepper
1 (16 oz.) can tomatoes
1 (12 oz.) can whole-kernel corn
1 (8 oz.) can tomato sauce
¼ cup sliced black olives
1½ tbsps. chili powder
¼ tsp. cumin
¼ tsp. pepper
1 cup coarsely crushed corn chips
½ cup shredded cheddar cheese

Crumble beef into 2-quart glass casserole. Add onion and green pepper. Microwave 6 minutes, stirring once after 3 minutes.

Drain tomatoes (reserve ¼ cup juice) and dice. Add to meat, with reserved juice. Stir in corn, tomato sauce, olives, chili powder, cumin and pepper. Cover and microwave until piping hot, 6 to 8 minutes.

Sprinkle casserole with crushed corn chips, then top with shredded cheese. Microwave, uncovered, about 2 minutes longer, until cheese melts. Let stand 2 minutes before serving.

Serves 4 to 6.

CREAMY CORN CHOWDER

½ cup chopped chives (green part)
¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
3 cups thawed frozen or canned corn
½ cup milk or half-and-half
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
2 tbsps. flour
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. white pepper
Dash dry mustard
4 cups canned chicken broth
½ cup shredded cheddar cheese

Place chives, parsley and butter in small glass dish. Cover with plastic wrap and microwave 3 minutes. Let stand, covered, 1 minute.

In blender container, combine sauteed chives and parsley with corn and milk; blend just until smooth.

Place butter in 2-quart glass casserole; microwave until melted, about 1 minute. Stir in flour, salt, pepper and dry mustard. Blend until smooth.

Add 2 cups chicken broth, a little at a time, stirring constantly to blend. Cover and microwave 4 to 5 minutes, stirring every other minute, until mixture thickens and begins to boil.

Stir in remaining 2 cups chicken broth, a little at a time, then blend in corn mixture.

Microwave, covered, 8 to 10 minutes longer, until soup is hot. Let stand, covered, 2 to 3 minutes before serving.

Serve in individual bowls topped with cheese.

Serves 4 to 6.

SCALLOPED MEXI-CORN

2 cups fresh or canned corn
2 eggs, beaten

¼ cup thin-sliced green pepper
2 tbsps. chopped pimiento
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
¾ cup evaporated milk
½ cup finely crushed cracker crumbs
2 tbsps. butter or margarine,
cut in small pieces
¼ tsp. paprika

Combine corn, eggs, green pepper, pimiento, salt, pepper and milk in 1½-quart glass casserole. Sprinkle cracker crumbs over top and dot with butter. Sprinkle lightly with paprika.

Microwave, uncovered, 8 to 10 minutes, rotating dish one-quarter turn after 4½ minutes.

Let stand, covered, about 5 minutes before serving.

Serves 4 to 6.

Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens. Foods are cooked on HIGH (100 percent power) and uncovered unless otherwise specified.

Short, easy recipes from the kitchen

Hollandaise sauce

2 tbsps. fresh lemon juice
4 egg yolks
¼ tsp. salt
1 pinch white pepper
1 pinch cayenne
¼ tsp. dry mustard
1 stick unsalted butter

In blender or food processor blend lemon juice, egg yolks, salt, pepper, cayenne and mustard. In small skillet or saucepan melt butter until bubbling (it must be bubbling or hollandaise will not thicken).

With blender running on medium or high speed, slowly add hot butter in thin stream. Serve hot. Makes about ¾ cup.

Note: For thicker hollandaise, or to reheat, sauce may be placed over hot water in double boiler.

Orange nog

1 medium-size orange, peeled and cut in chunks
1 tsp. honey
1 egg
2 to 3 ice cubes
Dash ground cinnamon
Dash nutmeg

Combine all ingredients in blender and blend until smooth. Pour into tall glass and sprinkle with additional nutmeg to garnish. Makes one 8-ounce serving.

SPRINGTIME SOUP

8 medium-size ripe tomatoes
5 tbsps. vegetable oil
1 medium-size onion, minced
2 medium-size cloves garlic, minced
3 tbsps. tomato paste
1 tsp. cornstarch
2 cups water
2 tbsps. tamari soy sauce
¼ cup light cream
Grated rind of 2 oranges
¼ cup fresh orange juice
Fresh parsley sprigs and thin orange slices (for garnish)

Peel, seed and coarsely chop tomatoes. Set aside.

In deep, heavy pot heat 3 tablespoons of oil. Add onion and garlic, and saute over medium-low heat 1 minute, until onion is just soft. Add tomatoes, and cook over high heat 5 minutes.

Remove pot from heat and set aside. In small bowl, blend together tomato paste, cornstarch and remaining oil. Stir into tomato mixture.

Place pot over medium heat and stir in water and soy sauce. Cook over medium heat, stirring often, just until boiling. Reduce heat to simmer, and cook an additional 15 minutes.

Remove soup from heat; stir in cream, grated orange rind and orange juice. Pour into blender and blend until smooth. Chill about 2 hours before serving. Serve individual bowls garnished with parsley sprigs and thin orange slices, if desired. Serves 4 to 6.

Kiwi fruit salad

1 medium head butter lettuce
2 large grapefruit
2 medium oranges
1 ripe papaya
3 kiwis
Minted Yogurt Dressing (recipe follows)
¼ cup slivered almonds
Several fresh mint sprigs (for garnish)

Core lettuce, rinse thoroughly and drain. Cover and refrigerate to crisp.

Separate grapefruit and oranges into sections, carefully removing membranes. Set aside.

Cut papaya in half lengthwise and scoop out seeds. Peel and cut lengthwise into thin wedges.

Peel kiwis and slice crosswise, about ¼ inch thick. Arrange chilled lettuce on six individual salad plates. Arrange fruit over top. Drizzle lightly with Minted Yogurt Dressing and garnish with almond slivers and fresh mint sprigs. Serves 6.

Minted yogurt

8 ozs. plain, unsweetened yogurt

Place all ingredients in medium-size mixing bowl and beat with wire whisk until smooth.

Refrigerate, covered, until ready to use. Makes about 1½ cups.

Kiwi sherbert

5 medium kiwis
1 cup fresh orange juice
¼ cup honey

2 tbsps. lemon juice
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
2 egg whites, at room temperature
Fresh, whole strawberries (optional)

Peel and dice kiwis (reserve one for garnish). In blender container, combine diced kiwis, orange juice, honey, lemon juice and grated lemon rind; blend until smooth.

Pour mixture into shallow tray and place in freezer. Freeze until almost solid. Turn into medium-size mixing bowl and beat with electric beater until slushy and smooth. Set aside.

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; fold gently into kiwi mixture.

Turn egg-kiwi mixture into plastic or glass container. Cover and freeze until firm.

Scoop into individual serving dishes and garnish with remaining kiwi fruit (peeled and sliced) and strawberries, if desired. Serves 4 (about 3 cups).

Jamaica Inn open to improvement

HOLLYWOOD — "Jamaica Inn," starring Jane Seymour and Patrick McGeehan, begins as a sumptuous, well-acted production powerfully capturing the brooding flavor of Cornwall. But by the end of the four-hour, Metromedia production, the vicissitudes of the characters have exhausted the viewer without fulfilling him.

Unlike the Daphne du Maurier's novel it's based on, events don't capture the viewer. In fact, some of the events don't even make sense. One character is identified as a horse thief and is hated by his enemies. At this time, horse thieves were hung. But he later appears to be free as a bird and chummy with the man he robbed. Regardless, the miniseries deserves some commendation.

Sets and costumes accurately depict 18th century Cornwall and their wild coastal homeland. And the common folk, like Paul Newman or Sylvester Stallone.

In fact, the miniseries' romantic theme might have been more affecting had Trevor Eve, playing Seymour's love interest, looked more like Paul Newman. Granted, the girl didn't have much to choose from, but the horse thief who won her affections isn't particularly compelling customer.

Seymour made "Jamaica Inn" 2½ years ago, but it didn't get air time earlier in the United States "because of network politics."

British producers thought they could make "Jamaica Inn," show it to a U.S. network and sell it, but the networks wouldn't even look at it.

Jane hadn't read the book when she accepted the role of Mary Yelven.

"But," she says, "I had read 'Rebecca' (by de Maurier) and seen that picture, and I liked them. I was at a point in my career when I wanted to show that I didn't have to play an uptown girl with an elaborate wardrobe and a chignon. I wanted a role that would let me walk through the mud."

And that's exactly what she got to do in "Jamaica Inn."

"Jamaica Inn" is classy fare. But class and entertainment value aren't totally synonymous. Too bad.

"There's more to this game than a game," says Stacey Alden, creator of Beverly Hills, The Golden Triangle.

The new board game is an answer to a prayer, says Alden, who began playing for a way to support her family after her husband left her in debt and with four sons to care for.

"I wanted a job that would let me come home at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, so I started a little decorating business," she says.

It wasn't exactly a flop, but it wasn't bringing in the money she needed. So Stacey prayed hard for inspiration and guidance. Inspiration came to her as she walked through a locally renowned shopping area in Kansas City. She noticed the merchants had no distinctive souvenirs to sell.

So Alden devised a Plaza board game, which she took around in rough form to get merchant reaction. The first reaction was that her prototype was almost too rough to evaluate. Stacey said she couldn't afford the manufacture of a more sophisticated sample unless they really were interested.

Merchants were encouraging, so she raised $60,000 for the fabrication and distribution of the Plaza board game. The game sold well, and because of its success she decided to create another game. However, she wanted to concentrate on an area known nationally or even worldwide. What area, she thought, is better known than Beverly Hills?

Alden talked with friends who had friends in Beverly Hills. Then she visited the fabled locale to see Rodeo Drive and the Polo Lounge. Moving right along, she asked for the blessing of the head of the Beverly Hills merchants' organization.

Steam Heat auditions slated July 13 at Marriott Pavilion

The St. Louis Steamers' Steam Heat Dancers will conduct auditions at 8 a.m. Saturday, July 13, at the Marriott Pavilion Hotel, 1 Broadway, St. Louis, to select members of the 1985-86 Steam Heat Dancers.

The dance portion of the auditions will be under the direction of St. Louis choreographer Ray Parks. Semifinalists will be interviewed by an independent panel of judges. Winners will be selected on the basis of dancing ability, beauty, poise and personality. Age requirements are 17 years and older. Auditioners must wear a French-cut leotard and pantyhose for tryouts.

Winners' names will be announced at the conclusion of the final auditions on Sunday, July 14.

In addition to the 1985-86 Steam Heat Dancers, there will be a Junior Mist Steam Heat dance squad consisting of girls between the ages of 12 and 16 years, and a Little Steam Heat dance squad consisting of girls between the ages of 6 and 11 years.

Officials said auditioners for these squads must possess talent in dance and gymnastics. The personality of each girl also is important.

The girls must bring with them a snapshot that will not be returned, their last original report card and a certified birth certificate. They also must prepare a 30-second dance routine with pom poms, displaying dance, kicks and one acrobatic stunt.

Requirements will be a C average and this grade average must be maintained throughout the year if the girl is chosen.

Auditions for the Junior Mist Squad will be on Saturday, July 27, and Sunday, July 28, and the Little Steam Heat Squad will be Saturday, July 20, and Sunday, July 21, at the Ray Parks Academy of Dance, 4348A Rider Trail, Earth City, Mo.

For further information, interested persons may call Mrs. Workman at 1-314-434-6459, Mrs. Kreutztrager at 1-314-441-1298 or the studio at 1-314-291-1981.

The St. Louis Steam Heat Dancers, Junior Mist and Little Steam Heat Dancers will be trained at Ray Parks Academy of Dance.

Movies made for summer fun

"RAMBO: FIRST BLOOD PART II" (R) NR — Muscles gleaming and machine gun blazing, Sylvester Stallone again takes on the role of Rambo, a Vietnam veteran who returns to that country in search of POWs still held captive. Talk about original concepts! With Richard Crenna, Julia Nickson, Charles Napier and Steven Berkoff. Directed by George P. Cosmatos.

"A VIEW TO A KILL" (PG) NR — Roger Moore returns as agent James Bond, battling yet another psychotic world-grabber (Christopher Walken) and his evil accomplices. May Day (Grace Jones), who wanted to capture the market in sil-con chips. With Tanya Roberts, Lois Maxwell, Desmond Llewelyn. Directed by John Glen.

"HERE COME THE LITTLES" (G) NR — An animated film based on the cartoon characters, The Littles. Directed by Bernard Deyries.

Les Herron

Les Herron to speak to Granite City Optimists

Illinois Bell manager Les Herron will be the featured speaker at the Thursday, June 13, meeting of the Granite City Optimist Club at the YMCA at 20th and Edison. He will present a look at the "New World of Communications," using slides to show some of the technological changes which are destined to revolutionize the way people live and work. He also will discuss diversification of the Bell system. His presentation will be given in non-technical terms, followed by audience participation in a question and answer session.

Herron is a member of Illinois Bell's Volunteer Management Speakers Bureau, which provides free programs on current topics to community and civic organizations. Programs can be scheduled by calling the Speakers Bureau toll free at 1-800-972-0442.

Woods installed as GC postmaster

Larry Woods was installed as the new Granite City postmaster Thursday morning. He formerly served as superintendent of postal operations in Belleville.

Woods succeeds former postmaster Jack Wilkins, who was promoted.

David Kane, postmaster of Cedar Falls, Iowa, had been the interim postmaster until Woods' installation. Kane will return to Cedar Falls.

Woods joined the postal service in 1971 as a letter carrier in East St. Louis. He has worked as superintendent at the Belleville office since 1981.

As postmaster of Granite City, Woods will supervise 96 employees and be responsible for mail service for nearly 40,000 residents.

Red Cross schedules handicapped swim class

The Tri City Chapter of the American Red Cross will conduct an instructional swimming program for the physically handicapped June 17 through July 12.

The overall purpose of the program is to teach the physically handicapped to swim or swim better, and to use this medium to provide the participants with a freedom and mobility they are otherwise denied. This enhances their physical and mental well-being, a Red Cross spokesman said.

The Handicapped Swim Program is available free of charge to any qualifying individual in the Quad Cities. The program will be conducted at a private swimming facility in Granite City. Registration is limited and is offered on a first come, first served basis.

"Recruiting is also underway for individuals who wish to assist the handicapped. Exceptional swimming ability is not necessary for those volunteers who offer their assistance."

"Each year, we have volunteers from all walks — high school and college students, grandparents and retirees," commented Joanne Higgins, program director.

Minimum age for volunteers is 18 years old — no maximum age. In addition to the staff, qualified lifeguards, also volunteers, will be in constant attendance. Training for volunteers will be June 13, 14 and 15.

Those individuals wishing to participate in the Handicapped Swim Program, as volunteers or participants, may contact the local Red Cross Office at 452-7184.

Legion Baseball Pitching should not be a problem for Junior Legion

Look To Improve Upon 13-14 Season

By GREGG OCHOA Staff writer
Last year, Granite City's Junior Legion baseball team would have sold its soul for another pitcher. There won't be any soul-selling this season, as Hogan Plumbing, which sponsors the local junior legion squad, has added two starting pitchers: Jeff Zukas and Mark Bowen to its roster, giving them a staff of six, including two relievers. "Both are juniors and should really help out," said Manager Paul Kacera. The rest of the mound corps includes Jay Valbert and Scott LeVault. Mike Georgetti and Darin Hendrickson are the relievers. The added depth in pitching should make Hogan Plumbing a better team, the manager said. In addition, the rest of the starters last season return for another year of eligibility. "The experience and just being mature will help make them better," Kacera said. With a roster composed of freshmen, Hogan Plumbing finished last season at 13-14, but played well in the post-season tournament. "I think that's where we make our biggest impression on the rest of the league," Coach Carl Benson said. The junior legion team has had rainy starts with two of its first three games washed out. In the season opener, Freeburg edged Granite City 3-2 behind hard-throwing Scott Musko, who fanned seven in pitching a complete game.

"It's really a shame we had to face a kid of that caliber so early in the season," Benson said. "Most of our kids hadn't played in two weeks. Their timing was off." Tim Hogan paced Granite City going 3-for-4 and collecting three stolen bases. Zukas and Bowen combined for 10 strike outs, but it wasn't enough. The junior legion team was scheduled to play Friday against Edwardsville but that game, too, was cancelled due to a wet field. Benson is hoping the weather will begin to cooperate because he says it's difficult to reschedule games. "What kills us is the availability of diamonds. Most of the dates are booked up." The raindrops may be delaying play, but the junior legion braintrust feels nothing will hold back his team on the basepaths. "We have good speed," Benson said. "And we will use it a lot this year. If we can get on base well be running." "We have five guys who wouldn't hesitate to steal a base," echoed Kacera. Offensively, Hogan Plumbing is sound. Both Valbert and Charlie Collins (second base) hit over .400 for the GCHS sophomore baseball team. LeVault, who will likely play first base when he is not pitching, is the team's primary power hitter. Right fielder Todd Adamitis, who made a switch from third base to the outfield in high school, also has some power. The rest of the starting outfield has Richie Wilson in left and the sure-gloved Tim Hogan roaming center field. Manning the other infield positions are Jamie Hogan at shortstop; Todd Hinterser at third; and Dave Bamber catching.

"We really have no weak points on our defense," Benson said. Hogan Plumbing hopes the hitting will take care of itself. "We're basically a singles team. We will use our speed to score runs," Benson said. In the loss to Freeburg, Granite City got five hits. But pitching is usually the key to a successful baseball season, and Benson hopes Hogan Plumbing has found the right combination. "Last year we said we would like to pick up a pitcher and another outfielder. We got the two pitchers and with Todd (Adamitis) making the move to the outfield that kind of took care of itself," Benson said. "We try to work with the high school coaches so there is as much continuity as possible." Kacera said in helping his team hone their skills over the summer. Hogan Plumbing's pitching staff is one of variety. Both Valbert and LeVault are hard throwers who rely on a fastball for strikes. By contrast, Zukas, a left-hander, and Bowen throw primarily breaking pitches. "They both would rather waste their fastball," Benson said. Georgetti is a spot-starter and long relief pitcher. Hendrickson, who can throw a knuckleball, will likely be used in the short relief role. "The biggest problem we have now, is that all of our kids need work, especially the pitchers they need some innings under their belts," Benson said. Hogan Plumbing has three games scheduled next week, beginning on Tuesday, June 11; they will host Highland at 6 p.m.; on June 13 they travel to Dupo for another 6 p.m. game and on June 15, Collinsville is the opponent for a 1 p.m. home game. Both home contests are at Varsity Field.

Chiefs, McDonalds hope for strong finishes

By GREGG OCHOA Staff writer
Slow starts, big finishes. It's a trend Granite City's two entries in the Illinois Inter-City League are hoping for. The Chiefs are 2-4 and McDonalds is 3-4 going in to this Sunday's action. The Chiefs host East Alton at Maxvill field while McDonalds plays the Brooklyn Robins (-4-2) at Lee Park in Venice. Both contests start at 1:30 p.m. The league started its 15th season May 19. "We really haven't played that bad," said Rick Flicker, manager of McDonalds which dropped a double-header to Maryville last week 6-5 and 7-3. Two of McDonalds' three losses have been by one run. Flicker, who is in his first year as manager taking over from longtime pilot Ray Harris, said one reason for the double-header loss was only nine players showed up for the game. "It's pretty tough when your pitcher has to play right field during the second game. His arm's pretty shot." Flicker noted the lack of players is a rarity. "We had a guy hurt (Ken Wilson) and a couple of college graduations." Until his injury, Wilson was one of the team's leading batsmen along with Kevin Sykes (second base) and Jeff Parker. On the mound, left-hander Mike Zukus sports a 2-1 record. Randy Canis is McDonalds' other starting pitcher. "Overall, I'm pleased with the way we have been playing," Flicker said. But I think we'll get better as the season goes on." McDonalds plays in the league's Red Division. The Robins are currently in first place in the division. For Dennis Gurkin's Chiefs, this season's 2-4 start can be considered a blessing as compared to last year. In 1984, the Chiefs lost their first 13 games before putting together a four-game winning streak. "I think we are a much better team (than last year)," Gurkin said. The league is also a lot more balanced. Gurkin picked up four new players who he sees will make strong contributions. Among those have been Kevin Patterson, one of the team's top hitters. Harry Jrdale, of East St. Louis, has been "Mr. Clutch," picking up two game-winning RBIs.

"I could have our guys high in the league in hitting," Gurkin boasts. Other regulars who have been producing are Brian Levin and Rick Takmanian. Offense is no problem for the Chiefs at this stage of the season. The pitching is also solid. The staff is led by Ken Crawford, Darrell Harris, Ned Tapp and Dominic Griffin. "I would say our pitching and hitting is ahead of our defense," Gurkin said. "Our defense is average, but it seems like we have had innning a game and it costs us." But it's early and Gurkin is optimistic. The Chiefs have gained splits against McDonalds and East St. Louis so far this year. Last week against The Eagles it was defensive laps that cost Granite City in a double-header loss. "We're a young team, our average age is about 21," Gurkin said. Of the starters, only one player is over 25. "But I can see them getting stronger." Gurkin hopes the added work in a "Thursday league" will help his team iron out any early problems. The Chiefs will begin play this week. The league consists of four Inter-City teams (Maryville, Cahokia, East Alton and Granite City).

Lancers bow out; Oak Park wins it all

SPRINGFIELD — The Belleville East Lancers, winners of the Granite City High School Class AA Sectional Baseball Tournament last weekend, were eliminated from the state tournament Friday, losing to Springfield High 10-4 in a semi-final matchup. The Lancers, a young team whose starting lineup consists of six juniors and two sophomores, excluding their pitcher, were a first-round winner Thursday afternoon in the tourney, beating the Hoffman Estates Hawks 5-1 before bowing out of the tourney. Springfield's luck later turned on them as they dropped the championship game to Oak Park 6-2. The victory was the Oak Park Bengals' 36th consecutive and ended their season with a 37-1 record. In East's semi-final game, Lancer pitcher Bill Gass led East past the Hawks in the first game while, in relief, he was tagged for the loss in Friday's semifinal game. The two-day action dropped Gass' record to 9-6. The Lancers exit the season and Springfield's Lancher's Lancher Park with a 24-13 record. Gass, who is the only senior on the squad, struck out nine as he pitched a complete game against Hoffman Estates. Gass allowed the Hawks just four hits. While Gass was the defensive star for the Lancers in the first game, second baseman Rick Schroeder provided Belleville East's offensive punch. Schroeder, who began the tournament with a .368 batting average, reached base all four times up, scoring three times. Schroeder reached on a walk, two singles and a double.

In the semifinal game with Springfield High, the Lancers took an early 2-0 lead in the first inning, gradually improving upon it until the fifth when they led 4-2. But it was in the fifth and sixth innings that the Senators battled their way back into the ballgame before blowing it wide open in the seventh. Springfield picked up one run in the fifth when Mike Malotik doubled to left field and then Mike Antinetti singled to right field to score Matlok. In the sixth inning, John Vorreyer singled to deep shortstop and then stole second base as Tim Torricelli was hit by a pitch to put runners in first and second. Springfield's Dave Mazmanian laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt advance the runners to second and third for Mark Romer who slapped a grounder to score Vorreyer.

Trailing by a run, the Senators tied the game in sixth when Vic Lanzotti managed to push Torricelli across the plate. Tied at four going into the seventh, the Senators blew the game open as Lancer pitching gave up six walks to aid the Senators in a six-run seventh, adjusting the final score to 10-4. In all, the Senators scattered 13 hits enroute to victory. Ron Riggie, who went the distance for the Senators, was the winning pitcher. Riggie allowed just four Lancer hits, four runs, four walks and struck out three. Belleville utilized three pitchers in the defeat: Rich Lockwood, Sam Lance and Gass. Gass, who pitched just two-thirds of an inning — in the sixth — was tagged for the loss. He allowed four runs, four walks and struck out two.

McBride pleads guilty to DUI charge

By BILL MILLIGAN Staff writer
EDWARDSVILLE — The waiting ended last week for Cahokia High School basketball coach Ken McBride. Ever since his arrest March 9 on charges of driving under the influence of alcohol and possession of marijuana, McBride's career has been in limbo. Last week, Madison County State's Attorney Richard Allen dropped the possession charge on the basis of insufficient evidence. Through his attorney William Lucco, McBride pleaded guilty June 5 to the DUI charge. McBride, 39, of Troy, was fined $500 by Madison County Circuit Court Judge Charles V. Romani and placed on one-year of court supervision. Had McBride been found guilty of possession, state law would have demanded revocation of his Illinois teaching certificate. According to Lucco, the DUI charge will be erased from McBride's record if the coach maintains a clean driving record during supervision. McBride's arrest came hours after his team won its first regional basketball championship. The team eventually finished fourth in the state basketball tournament, but it was McBride who made headlines. "You covered this story very well," McBride told reporters last week. "I just hope that you cover the Comanches as well next season." Police arrested McBride for driving east in the westbound lanes of Interstate 270 near the Route 157 exit. Madison County sheriff's deputies then charged McBride with DUI. Later, Pontoon Beach police arrived and found a plastic bag on the front seat of the car McBride was driving. Police reported the bag contained marijuana. (See McBride, Page 2D)

NBA MVP, the 'Birdman' of Boston will soar

Ally, the NBA championship series. Usually the only thing good about it is it signals the end of a long, drawn out season. I've got to admit, usually by this time I'm wrapped up in the baseball season and, well... after the NCAA tournament it's hard for me to remain excited about basketball.

It was last October when the NBA regular season began, nearly seven and a half months ago. Just think about it: a woman who learned she was pregnant last fall may still give birth to her child before Larry Bird sinks his last jump shot.

That's a long, long season! But this season my interest in the NBA and the championship series has not waned with the coming of spring and Major League baseball. I'm still following the series, along with baseball.

Friday night, for example, I found myself switching television channels between the Cards' game in New York to the NBA series in Los Angeles even though I was recording the Card's game.

Why the continued interest? I'm not sure myself. The interest may have been subconsciously planted last June when the Celtics won the championship. Not that I like the Celtics so much, but Larry Bird — the Birdman of Boston — and his looping jump shot is the prettiest thing to watch.

And through the championship series, there's no question that Bird is the best choice again for the NBA's most valuable player, an award he received last week. The 'Birdman' does it all.

Everything. Okay. Okay. Sure Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's skyhook is as famous as anything the game has seen. And, he's been in the league for 16 long years. But right now, at this stage in both of their careers, Bird does more. He's the more complete player.

Sure, I enjoy watching Bird, but I think the thing that keeps me interested in the championship series is the pairing. The Celts vs. the Lakers.

The marquee at the Forum and Boston Garden should read: NBA Championship Series — Lakers vs. Celtics: Talent vs. Desire. Unquestionably, the Lakers have the most talent. Their bench is as deep as Kareem is tall, but the Celtics are gutsy contenders. They keep coming at you. What they lack in depth they more than make up in gutsiness.

Take Game Four for example. Boston fell as far as nine points behind and just when it appeared the Lakers were going to have one of their patented scoring "runs," Bird and the Celtics came back.

Bird scored eight straight points, stole two passes and put the Boys from Boston back into the

In the Spotlight

By Alan L. Gerstenecker

ballgame. Gutsy. Gutsy underdogs, if you can call the reigning world champions underdogs.

In Game Five, the final battle at the Forum, the Lakers held Bird to five first-half points. Then in the second half, Bird managed 15 points to put a little scare into the Lakers. Bird may not have been the game's leading scorer Friday night like he was for most of the season, but his presence on the court opened shots for the rest of the Celtics. Double and triple teaming Bird provided scoring opportunities for Robert Parish, Kevin McHale and Dennis Johnson, as it did in Game Four when he scored the shot that won the Celtics their second game. You've got to marvel at Bird. The guys got bone spurs in the arm, a sprained ankle and a jammed finger on his shooting hand. It epitomizes his and the Celtics' resiliency.

Now trailing in the series three games to two, Bird and the Celtics will return to the Garden for what should be a shootout for the series title.

Sure, the Lakers have the game advantage, but the Celtics are as tough in the Garden as the Lakers are in the Forum. It should be quite a finale.

After all, when the Birdman returns to the familiar surroundings of the Garden, he soars.

McBride

lained what appeared to be marijuana cigarettes.

Following the arrest, District 187 school board officials suspended McBride, but a court injunction allowed him to continue coaching his team until the state tournament concluded.

After the season ended, the board suspended McBride, with pay, until the matter was resolved by the courts.

Chris Demetrius, the only board member who voted against the suspension, said last week he expected McBride would be reinstated as a physical education teacher and coach at the high school.

"Nobody condones drinking and driving," Demetrius said. "But, for the board to dismiss him for DUI charges, they would be playing God. If that was so, some of the board members would have a problem."

"As far as I'm concerned, he's our coach," Demetrius said. "He's been absolved of the main charge (possession of marijuana)."

McBride's basketball and assistant track coaching positions are a few of several coaching assignments still up in the air, according to District 187 Athletics Director Larry Taylor.

"We haven't finalized spring sports duties," Taylor said. "I don't know what action the board will take."

School Board President Donald Vaughn said last week he would be glad when the whole thing was over. "When the Kansas City Royals had half the team on drug charges they didn't get as much press as he (McBride) did," Vaughn said.

"Everybody puts teachers on a pedestal. They're supposed to be saints, until it comes time for a pay raise," he added. "The media has kept making this thing an issue. I'll keep making this thing an issue. I'll keep making this thing an issue."

McBride's team finished the season 28-5 and was the first Cahokia team to ever win regional and sectional tournaments. For McBride, a former Cahokia basketball star and eight-year coaching veteran, last season was his best ever. "He's been a coach since 1973. He's been a coach since 1973. He's been a coach since 1973."

Free Fishing Days goal: Familiarize the non-anglers

SPORTS EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is reprinted for the Illinois Department of Conservation's Outdoor Highlights. Monday concludes Illinois' Free Fishing Days, the first ever. Nearby Horseshoe Lake is one of 17 state owned lakes throughout the state that is coordinating an activities program to run in conjunction with Free Fishing Days. Among the activities are fishing derbies, fish fries and various how-to seminars. The following is the DOC's explanation for the why it decided to inaugurate the program this year.

Why Free Fishing Days?
That's a question we've heard from time to time since the announcement that June 7-10 will be Free Fishing Days in Illinois. On those four days anyone can fish Illinois waters without having a fishing license. That includes all public waters in the state, private waters if the angler obtains permission from the owner, and is for residents and non-residents alike. The only requirement is that participants must obey fishing laws that govern the sport of fishing.

But why Free Fishing Days?
Some people have speculated that it is a measure to help bait shops and sporting goods stores. Others have guessed the Department of Conservation wants to increase the number of persons visiting state parks throughout the state. A few have suggested it is a way to give some business to fishing guides and tackle manufacturers.

All are partially correct, but the best guess, and the one that is the most correct, is that it is a public relations gimmick dreamed up by the Department of Conservation. That's exactly what it is.

But it goes beyond being just a public relations gimmick. It's the State of Illinois' way of telling the public that if they are going fishing, to give Illinois a try. It's an invitation to out-of-state anglers to put a hook in our waters. It's an invitation for persons who may have been anglers a few years ago to give it try again, and a chance to introduce non-anglers to the sport of fishing at a minimal cost. It's also a means that will enable a non-fishing parent to take the kids out for a day of fishing.

That's a little bit of why we say it's a public relations gimmick, but there's more.

It's also the Department of Conservation's way of saying that Illinois has some of the best fishing to be found anywhere. It's no secret that Illinois has been handicapped the past two to three decades by an outdated fish hatchery system, and that many Illinois anglers began fishing other states that could offer better fishing.

That's all changed, however. With the construction and operation of the new Sand Ridge Fish Hatchery, plus the increased production of the renovated Little Grassy Fish Hatchery, the continued support the Spring Grove Fish Hatchery, and the innovative creation of spawning and rearing ponds by fisheries biologists, Illinois today is stocking literally millions more fish of many species into the waters that dot the state.

Those millions of fish means Illinois can compete with fishing areas throughout the United States. No longer do anglers have to drive hundreds of miles for good fishing. Illinois anglers can fish, with minimal expense, near their home. The dedicated Illinois anglers — those that fish our waters regularly — already know that statement is true.

During Free Fishing Days the tackle manufacturers and sport and tackle stores stand to do better business. Other businesses will profit, too. Participants will buy gas and food, stay in motels and hotels, and they will circulate dollars that will benefit entire communities. The Department of Conservation hopes to attract new anglers during Free Fishing Days — anglers that will purchase licenses that will generate the most because they will have been introduced to one of the most popular activities of all time — the sport of fishing. Once they're hooked on fishing they become part of the Department of Conservation's family of boosters.

We suspect our angling readers would have been on the lakes and streams of Illinois this June 7-10 whether we had Free Fishing Days or not. We hope each of them will take the opportunity to introduce at least one of their non-angling friends to the sport.

Why Free Fishing Days? Because everyone benefits!

Bassman Benson

BIG BASS. Carl Benson, of Granite City, caught this 8½-pound Largemouth Bass May 16 at Table Rock Lake in the Ozarks. It took Benson, who used 5½ inch Rapella on a 10-pound test line, nearly 15 minutes to land the fish. Fishing from a boat with friend, Paul Kacera, Benson landed the fish near dusk, just off Indian Point.

DOC begins owl program

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Department of Conservation has instituted a program to save the barn owl.

Approximately 250 barn owl nest boxes have been distributed throughout the state. The boxes will be installed in abandoned out-buildings and silos.

At a cost of $4 a box, the project will be considered successful if one or two boxes are used by nesting barn owls, said Carl Becker, of the DOC's Natural Heritage Management section.

"Given the rarity of the animal, we'd be ecstatic if a barn owl takes to one of these," Becker said.

"Getting one pair to nest successfully in Illinois would be a major accomplishment."

Anyone interested in participating in the program should write to Becker in care of the DOC, Natural Heritage Section, 524 S. Second Street, Springfield, Ill., or call any DOC branch office.

The barn owl is a critically endangered species in Illinois. The increased use of pesticides have driven the animal out of its traditional nesting areas.

There have been only five reports of barn owls in Illinois the last five years, Becker said.

Frog season begins Saturday

Illinois' frog hunting season starts June 15 and lasts through Aug. 31, according to the seasons established by the Department of Conservation.

Eight bullfrogs may be taken daily with a possession limit of 16.

A sport fishing license is required for frogging. State law, however, prohibits the use of firearms, air guns, gas guns or commercial fishing devices such as hoop nets, traps or seines.

Most froggers use a small spear — or gig — but it is also legal to take frogs by hand or with a pole-and-line.

their different backgrounds present problems for the pair.
